

APPLIANCES

With technology becoming more and more advanced, so are appliances. Wine coolers and under-the-counter refrigeration seem to be two hot commodities for kitchens. The wine culture is a growing trend among both the young and old, and wine coolers can give a kitchen a more entertaining feel and allow the homeowner to show off their collection of wines. "Hiding" these appliances is also appealing to many homeowners by matching their refrigerator door to the cabinetry. Additional cook tops and multi-functional ovens are growing in popularity for the person who loves to cook and needs more cooking space. Dishwashers made out of stainless steel are in greater demand but hiding a dishwasher is a growing trend. Matching the cabinet panel doors gives the illusion the dishwasher isn't there.

COUNTERTOPS

If you are thinking of remodeling your kitchen, there are more choices for countertops than ever before. From granite to stainless steel, the options are endless. More and more people are requesting rich texture and durable materials. As the kitchen continues to grow into more of an Above: "Camouflage," in wooden paneling form, hides the refrigerator from view and creates a less cluttered-feeling kitchen.

Right: Jenn-Air's stainless dishwasher holds tons of dishes in a small space.

PHOTO COURTESY OF JENNAIR